5.

These products are packaged in bales of 25 each. There is no permanent military commission in the factory; approximately once a month a military board from Trencin (N 148-53, E 18-03) accepts the products, and they are shipped by rail. Shipments occur twice a month. Generally speaking, the uniforms are sent to the quartermaster depots in Bratislava, Trencin, Mistek (N 19-10, E 18-20), and the aviation quartermaster depot in Bratislava-Ivanka.

Cloth and accessory materials reach the factory by rail. Two or three trains arrive weekly at Puchov station with supplies for the factory. Sixty percent of the textiles for uniforms, chiefly coarse cloth, are supplied by textile mills in Zilina. Mills in Trencin and Kysucke Nove

6. In October 1953, production was suspended, and from that month until the beginning of 1954 the factory worked only for the Soviet armed forces. During that period, with two shifts daily, 25,000 blouses were manufactured for Soviet aviators; the cloth was supplied by the USSR. During this special period of manufacture, the work was watched by two Soviet officers who were placed in the factory.

Mesto (N 49-18, E 18-47) also supply cloth.
